* The critical requirement of revamping is to do the job within available space in a very congested area without damaging any nearby equipment. VSP does not have the technical know-how, the required facilities and drawings for taking up the job. M/s. BHEL is the OEM of the equipment and have the required expertise and facilities for design and manufacture along with the drawings. In various other plants where BHEL is the OEM, they have successfully executed similar R&M jobs.
